The Chairman's Message

The aim of modern higher technical education as envisaged by renowned educationists is to facilitate the students to master the entire gamut of skills required of a successful professional.

The role of such centers of excellence that abide by this basic principle is far reaching. They not only fulfill the career aspirations of the students but also fuel the needs of regional and national development. RRIMT has emerged as an oasis of modern technical education in U.P. It has taken the onerous responsibility of providing quality and meaningful education.

Globalization and fast changing technology integrated with modern managerial procedures have added a new dimension to the method and scope of professional and technical learning. RRIMT has taken cognizance to these new challenges. We have girded up our loins for making a world class institution ably assisted by a team of erudites and replete with all modern amenities and paraphernalia.

Anil Kumar Agarwal
(Chairman)

The Secretary's Message

Education is reckoned as an important tool to measure Technological and socio-economic development of any nation. Various forces of the world are encroaching the established area of technological, social and behavioral aspects of life and as a result human values are fast depleting. Education sector, therefore, assumes paramount importance in as much as it has started to shed its automatic mode of instruction and imparting of knowledge paving way for technological & socio-economic development in tune with globalisation & modernisation. Learning has been democratized and become learner centric leading to a great stride.

A decade of economic reforms has also shown that reforms take roots and sustain themselves only in the environment of accountability and transparency. We are therefore, determined to take up every course for facilitating our students with all possible excellencies. But any institution in modern times is a corpus like corporate sector and therefore mandated as joint venture of faculty, students, parents/guardians and management to lead Institutions to the Olympian Heights. Let us join hands to strive together to take RRIMT to greater heights.

L.C. Agarwal
(Secretary)

The Director's Message

Education has been the key factor in the development of any country. In the era of globalization, different world forces are encroaching in the established area of technological, social and behavioral aspects of life. Education sector, therefore, requires a great consideration in its established coin. Education has shed its conventional mode of instruction and imparting of knowledge. It is now approaching every unit of society at large. Learning has been democratized and learner centered and it leads to a great stride.

Two decades of economic reforms has shown that reforms take root and sustain themselves only in an environment of accountability and openness. We are very much convinced with these propositions and are determined to take up every course for facilitating our students with all possible excellence. But any Institution in modern times is a corpus like corporate sector, and it is the joint responsibility of management, faculty, guardians and students to lead the institution to new heights.

I welcome you to our institution to join hands with us for making it a world class institution.

Prof. (Dr.) S. N. Mishra
(Director)
